- B. If applicable, describe the nature and extent of your practice of law, present and former, and provide the names of your partners, associates, office mates, and employers.

I am a partner in the law firm of Baker & Daniels. Baker & Daniels has more than 370 lawyers and legal professionals in seven offices. I am a business litigator with a practice emphasis on employment defense. My case load includes employment discrimination matters, complex employment litigation, wage and hour litigation, and business litigation.

I began my career at Baker & Daniels in 1991, following a clerkship on the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. I became a partner in the firm in 2000. For a few years prior to becoming a partner, I worked a reduced-hours schedule due to family responsibilities. I was one of the first attorneys in the firm to become a partner from a reduced schedule. Based in part on my experience, the firm adopted a formal Reduced Hours policy, which

I am presently in charge of administering. As noted above, I have held a number of other firm management positions including Hiring Partner (Indianapolis), Compensation Committee, and Nominating Committee (responsible for nominations to firm management). I have also served as Practice Group Leader for the Employment Litigation Subgroup.

During my tenure at Baker & Daniels, I have first-chaired ten trials, eight of which went to verdict. In addition to the jury trial list below, I have led the defense effort in three bench trials, two of which resulted in a defense verdict following trial and one of which resulted in a defense verdict on appeal. Case names and descriptions for the bench trials are as follows:

Zavodinik v. WFIU (Marion County, Indiana). Case involving loss of photographs, allegedly valued at over a million dollars. Defense verdict following bench trial on February 26, 2003.

Unincorporated Operating Div. of Indiana Newspapers, Inc. v. Trustees of Indiana University (Monroe County, Indiana Circuit Court). Bench trial on issue of applicability of exemption to Indiana access to public records act. Defense verdict in August 2006.

Schwing<sup>3</sup> v. Eli Lilly and Company (Eastern District of Pennsylvania). ERISA claim. Three of seven counts of Complaint dismissed prior to trial. On remaining claims, bench trial was held. Verdict for defendants on Count VI of Complaint and verdict for defendants on two of three claims on Count II of Complaint. On appeal, judgment for plaintiff reversed and judgment on all counts entered in favor of Lilly on April 14, 2009.

I regularly defend employers in collective or class actions. My collective and class action experience includes the following:

Schaefer-LaRose et al. v. Eli Lilly and Company (filed in Syracuse, New York, transferred to Southern District of Indiana). Sales representative compensation case; obtained summary judgment holding that plaintiff was exempt under the FLSA; court has issued an order requiring plaintiffs to show cause why the conditionally certified action should not be dismissed.

Putnam v. Eli Lilly and Company (Southern District of California). Putative California class action against involving sales representative compensation; case dismissed following class certification briefing and defense motion for summary judgment.

Klema et al. v. hhgregg (Northern District of Ohio). Motion to conditionally certify class of commissioned sales employees defeated on motion to reconsider.

<sup>3</sup> Renamed on appeal due to the death of the plaintiff.

Wal-Mart et. al v. Bailey (Marion County and Indiana Court of Appeals). Co-counsel (with Jones Day) for Wal-Mart; certification of class of more than 100,000 retail workers for national retail chain reversed on appeal.

O'Shea et al v. Total Entertainment Restaurant Corporation (Southern District of Indiana, Evansville Division). Case involving exempt status of assistant managers in national restaurant chain; issues significantly narrowed through certification briefing, resulting on favorable resolution.

I have argued appeals in the Indiana Court of Appeals, the Indiana Supreme Court, the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals and the Third Circuit Court of Appeals. Significant appeals include the following:

Board of School Com's of City of Indianapolis v. Walpole, 801 N.E.2d 622 (Ind. 2004) (no right to discovery prior to teacher termination proceeding).

Estate of Schwing v. The Lilly Health Plan et al, 562 F.2d 522 (3d Cir. 2009) (first case in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals involving standard of review on a claim for benefits following Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. v. Glenn, 554 U.S. 105, 128 S. Ct. 2343 (2008)).

Garwood Packaging v. Allen, 378 F.3d 698 (7th Cir. 2004) (affirming summary judgment on promissory estoppel claim and discussing standard for claim in case involving significant exposure).

Groce v. El Lilly & Co, 193 F.3d 496 (7th Cir. 1999) (first appellate decision rejecting retaliatory discharge claim under IOSHA).

I have been recognized in Indiana Super Lawyers for Employment Litigation: Defense and in Chambers USA: A Guide to America's Leading Business Lawyers for Labor & Employment.

I have listed two of my law partners in Section VIII.B as references. I have not listed all the partners and associate with the firm due to the number of attorneys; however, I can provide a complete list upon request.
